QUESTION PRESENTED FOR REVIEW

Whether a thirty (30) day mandatory minimum period of incarceration for a first conviction of driving on a revoked driver's license without accident where the driver's license was revoked because Defendant had refused a chemical test on a previous DWI arrest comports with the proportionality analysis set out in Solem v. Helm, 463 U.S. 277 (1983), and the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Statutory Provision Conferring Jurisdiction On This Court to Review
the Judgment by Writ of Certiorari

28 U.S.C. Sec. 1257 states:

State courts; appeal; certiorari

Final judgments or decrees rendered by the highest court of a State in which a decision could be had, may be reviewed by the Supreme Court as follows:

(1) By appeal, where is drawn in question the validity of a treaty or statute of the United States and the decision is against its validity.

(2) By appeal, where is drawn in question the validity of a statute of any state on the ground of its being repugnant to the Constitution, treaties or laws of the United States, and the decision is in favor of its validity.

(3) By writ of certiorari, where the validity of a treaty or statute of the United States is drawn in question or where the validity of a State statute is drawn in question on the ground of its being repugnant to the Constitution, treaties or laws of the United States, or where any title, right, privilege or immunity is specially set up or claimed under the Constitution, treaties or statutes of, or commission held or authority exercised under, the United States.

D.

Statutory Provisions

Nevada Revised Statute 483.560

states:

Driving while license canceled, revoked or suspended; probation, suspended sentences and plea bargaining prohibited; penalties.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2, any person who drives a motor vehicle on a highway or on premises to which the public has access at a time when his driver's license has been canceled, revoked or suspended is guilty of a misdemeanor.

2. If the license was suspended, revoked or restricted because of a violation of NRS 484.379, 484.3795, 484.384 or homicide resulting from driving a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or the violation of a law of any other jurisdiction which prohibits the same conduct, he shall be punished by imprisonment in jail for not less than 30 days nor more than 6 months, and by a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000. No person who is punished under this subsection may be granted probation and no sentence imposed for such a violation may be suspended. No prosecutor may dismiss a charge of such a violation in exchange for a plea of guilty or of nolo contendere to a lesser charge or for any other reason unless, in his judgment the charge is not supported by probable cause or cannot be proved at trial.

3. Any term of confinement imposed under the provisions of this section may be served intermittently at the discretion of the judge or justice of the peace. This discretion must be exercised after considering all the circumstances surrounding the offense, and the family and employment of the person convicted. However, the full term of confinement must be served within 6 months after the date of conviction, and any segment of time the person is confined must not consist of less than 24 hours.

4. Jail sentences simultaneously imposed under this section and NRS 484.3792 or 484.3794 must run consecutively.

5. The department upon receiving a record of the conviction or punishment of any person under this section upon a charge of driving a vehicle while his license was:

(a) Suspended shall extend the period of the suspension for an additional like period.

(b) Revoked shall extend the period of ineligibility for a license, permit or privilege to drive for an additional 1 year.

(c) Restricted shall revoke his restricted license and extend the period of ineligibility for a license permit or privilege to drive for an additional year.

Suspensions and revocations
under this section must run consecutively.

Nevada Revised Statute 484.384

states:

Driving while intoxicated:
Failure to consent to evidentiary or preliminary test; test showing 0.10 percent alcohol in blood; revocation of license, permit or privilege;
periods of ineligibility.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, if a person fails to submit to an evidentiary test as directed by a police officer under NRS 484.383, his license, permit or privilege to drive must be revoked as provided in NRS 484.385 and he is not eligible for a license, permit or privilege to drive for a period of 1 year.

2. If the person who has failed to submit to such a test has had his license, permit or privilege to drive suspended or revoked for failing to submit to such a test within the immediate preceding 7 years, he is not eligible for a license, permit or privilege to drive for a period of 3 years.

3. If a person fails to submit to a preliminary test of his breath as directed by a police officer under NRS 484.382 or the result of a test given under NRS 484.382 or NRS 484.383 shows that he had 0.10 percent or more by weight of alcohol in his blood at the time of the test, his license, permit or privilege to drive must be revoked as provided in NRS 484.385 and he is not eligible for a license, permit or privilege for a period of 90 days.

4. If revocation of a person's license, permit or privilege to drive under NRS 483.460 follows a revocation under subsection 3 which was based on his having 0.10 percent or more by weight of alcohol in his blood, the department shall cancel the revocation under that subsection and give the person credit for any period during which he was not eligible for a license, permit or privilege.

5. Periods of ineligibility for a license, permit or privilege to drive which are imposed pursuant to this section must run consecutively.

Nevada Revised Statute 484.379

states:

Driving while intoxicated:
Unlawful acts.

1. It is unlawful for any person who:

(a) Is under the influence of intoxicating liquor; or

(b) Has 0.10 percent or more by weight of alcohol in his blood, to drive or be in actual physical control of a vehicle on a highway or on premises to which the public has access.

2. It is unlawful for any person who is an habitual user of or under the influence of any controlled substance, or is under the combined influence of intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, or any person who inhales, ingests, applies or otherwise uses any chemical, poison or organic solvent, or any compound or combination of any of these, to a degree which renders him incapable of safely driving or exercising actual physical control of a vehicle to drive or be in actual physical control of a vehicle on a highway or on premises to which the public has access. The fact that any person charged with a violation of this subsection is or has been entitled to use that drug under the laws of this state is not a defense against any charge of violating this subsection.

Statement of Facts

On or about December 25, 1984, Petitioner (hereinafter "Defendant") was arrested in Las Vegas, Clark County, Nevada, for driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor (hereinafter "DUI") and refused to take a chemical test to determine his blood-alcohol content. Not requesting a hearing to determine the voluntariness of his refusal, Defendant's driver's license was revoked automatically for one (1) year on or about January 2, 1985, pursuant to N.R.S. 484.384. Defendant was then arrested for another DUI charge on January 5, 1985, and later charged for not only DUI, but for driving on a driver's license revoked for refusal to submit to a chemical test of his blood. N.R.S.

483.560. Defendant was tried on or about October 17, 1986, in Las Vegas Township Justice Court (represented by other than present counsel) and was convicted of both charges, given thirty (30) days mandatory incarceration on the driver's license charge, and two (2) days on the DUI conviction, to run concurrently, and a combined fine of $710.00. Appeal was taken on on or about October 27, 1986, to the Eighth Judicial District Court, Las Vegas, Clark County, State of Nevada, where the issue now before this Court was briefed and argued. The Appeal from Las Vegas Township Justice Court was affirmed on or about March 6, 1987, by the District Court, and Defendant was given three (3) weeks, to and including March 27, 1987, to file a Petition for Writ of Mandamus with the Nevada Supreme Court and seek a Stay. The Nevada Supreme Court notified counsel for the parties on March 26, 1987, that the Petition had been denied as well as the Stay. This oral Order was later reduced to a written Order dated March 26, 1987. (See Appendix, Tab "A", copy of that Order). On or about March 27, 1987, when the matter was set for review before the District Court, that Court, the Honorable Donald M. Mosely, Department XIV, allowed a period of four (4) weeks to and including Friday, April 24, 1987, at 10:00 A.M., to file a Petition for Writ of Certiorari with this Court and obtain a Stay.

If a Stay is not granted by this Court on or before that day and time, Defendant will be taken into custody and incarcerated for thirty (30) days.

F.

Stage In State Proceedings That Federal Issue Was First Presented

The federal issue now before this Court was first presented to the Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County, Nevada, on Appeal, and denied; the same federal issue was presented to the Nevada Supreme Court by Petition for Writ of Mandamus, which Petition was denied on or about March 26, 1987. A petition for rehearing was not filed.

G.

Contentions Relied On for Allowance of Writ of Certiorari

Defendant's Mandatorily Required Sentence of Thirty (30) Days Incarceration is Unconstitutionally Disproportionate to the Crime Committed

N.R.S. 483.560, the statute which forbids driving on a revoked driver's license, if that revocation stems from a refusal to take a chemical test after a DUI arrest, not only requires a mandatory minimum of thirty (30) days in jail upon conviction, but also prevents the prosecution from negotiating the charge unless the prosecutor feels that the charge is not supported by probable cause or cannot be proved at trial. The mandatory minimum period of incarceration was imposed in this case.

In Solem v. Helm, 463 U.S. 277, 103 S.Ct. 3001, 77 L.Ed. 2d 637 (1983), this Court set out three (3) factors to be reviewed in determining whether a penal sentence was disproportionate to the crime:

- (1) the gravity of the offense
and the harshness of
the penalty;
- (2) compare the sentence at issue to sentences imposed on other criminals in the same jurisdiction; and
- (3) compare the sentence to sentences imposed for the commission of the same
crime in other jurisdictions.

This analysis has been used in the lower courts to evaluate the severity of mandatory periods of incarceration. See Holley v. Smith, 792 F.2d 1046 (CA11 1986); State v. Carson, 720 P.2d 972 (Az. App. 1986).

Taking these elements in order, the crime herein is a misdemeanor, and no accident, injury, or property damage need occur to invoke the mandatory minimum period of incarceration. This crime carries a maximum period of imprisonment of six (6) months and/or a fine of up to $1,000.00 on a first offense. This is the most serious misdemeanor in the State of Nevada. The crime is classified as "petty", and carries no right to jury trial.

Secondly, even the charge of DUI, from which the revoked license charge herein stems, allows an option of two (2) days incarceration, or an equivalent period of forty-eight (48) hours of community service. Upon a second conviction of DUI within seven (7) years, a Defendant must serve ten (10) days in custody minimum, much less than the thirty (30) days at issue here. The vast majority of gross misdemeanor crimes in the State of Nevada do not require mandatory jail time. Even serious felonies do not require mandatory jail time, and are probationable. See, N.R.S. 200.080 (voluntary manslaughter), N.R.S. 200.090 (involuntary manslaughter), N.R.S. 200.280 (Mayhem), N.R.S. 200.310(2) and 200.330 (second degree kidnaping), N.R.S. 200.380 (robbery), N.R.S. 200.390 (attempt to kill, administration of poison), N.R.S. 200.460 (false imprisonment), N.R.S. 200.471 (assault with a deadly weapon), N.R.S. 200.481(2)(d) (battery with a deadly weapon), N.R.S. 205.060 (burglary), N.R.S. 205.010 (first degree arson), and N.R.S. 205.320 (extortion). Even most serious drug charges on a first offense (possession, sale) are probationable. In sum, felonies in the State of Nevada allow probation in the discretion of the court.

As this Court stated in Solem,
supra, at 463 U.S. 291, 301 S.Ct. 3010:

... If more serious crimes
are subject to the same penalty
or to less serious penalties, that is some indication that the punishment at issue may be excessive ...

Third, Tab "B" of the Appendix is a listing of forty-two (42) States, including the District of Columbia, statutes
and penalties, for driving on a suspended, revoked, or cancelled driver's license.
Some States make the distinction, as Nevada does, between driving on a suspended or revoked driver's license caused by a DUI conviction or related chemical test violation, and driving on a suspended or revoked driver's license caused from other reasons; other States make no such distinction. Only nine (9) States have laws where penalties are as serious as, or more serious than, the State of Nevada's

(see Tab "C" of the Appendix herein).

This statutory penalty is clearly disproportionate to the gravity of the offense and the harshness of the penalty is harsh as compared to more serious crimes in the same jurisdiction, and harsh when compared to similar statutes and penalties in other jurisdictions, as these elements are set out in Solem, supra. See also, Enmund v. Florida, 458 U.S. 782, 102 S.Ct. 3368, 73 L.Ed.2d 1140 (1982); Coker v. Georgia, 433 U.S. 548, 97 S.Ct. 2861, 53 L.Ed.2d 982 (1977).

This Court should grant certiorari because the nine (9) States that are punishing by thirty (30) days mandatory imprisonment or more, are punishing convicted defendants significantly more than the vast majority of forty-two (42) States; and these more punitive statutes should be found to violate the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution, and the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

CONCLUSION

Inasmuch as the mandatory sentence of thirty (30) days is constitutionally infirm, it must be stricken. Defendant also urges this Court to Stay his incarceration pending resolution of this Petition before this Court. Defendant must surrender for incarceration at 10:00 A.M., Friday, April 24, 1987, in Department 14 of the Eighth Judicial District Court, Las Vegas, Clark County, Nevada.

DATED this 9th day of April, 1987.
